HER HUSBAND IS HELD GUILTY

Mrs. Blake Does Not Blame Doctor in Her Alienation Suit.

London, Sept. 25.—Clarence H. Mackay, accompanied by his two younger children and the Countess de D'Almeida, made a hurried departure for Paris within a few hours after a cable message had been received by Mr. Mackay stating that the news that his wife had been made the defendant in a $1,000,000 suit had become public.

Miss Katherine Mackay, 14 years old, who has been with her father, sailed on the Olympic yesterday in charge of a governess. It was believed that the daughter would join her mother in Portland, Me.

New York, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Joseph A. Blake tonight declared that she does not hold her husband, Dr. Joseph A. Blake, responsible for the circumstances which caused her to bring suit for $1,000,000 against Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay for the alleged alienation of Dr. Blake's affections.

Mrs. Blake denied that she had authorized a friend to issue a statement today in which it was said that Mrs. Mackay was solely responsible for the present situation, but Mrs. Blake repeatedly asserted that her husband was "the best man God ever made." At the same time Mrs. Blake asked especially that she be quoted as saying: "I do not blame my husband in the slightest degree and I have not believed that he was ever untrue to me."

When seen tonight Mrs. Blake said: "I cannot trust myself to discuss this matter at any length for the reason that the notoriety is nearly killing me and also my attorney, Mr. Battle, has cautioned me not to discuss the case for publication. Yet, so long as the statement has been made by one represented as having my authorization, I wish to take the opportunity of denying it."

"I cannot say where I place the blame for this terrible affair other than to say that I have never said or believed anything which would reflect upon my husband and I do not hold him responsible in the least for anything which has happened. I wish to place special emphasis on this statement. Nor have I at any time believed him to have been untrue to me. But my rector, Dr. Ernest M. Stires of St. Thomas church, could tell you how I have been made to suffer."

Extols Her Husband.
"Dr. Blake is the best man God ever made. We have been married for twenty-one years and I should know. I will also say that no woman ever had a more devoted husband than I have had. What brought about this situation I cannot tell at the present time. The bitterness I feel is more sorrow for my husband than anything else."

"Dr. Blake came to New York from New Haven. At that time he was unknown to the medical profession in this city, and the tremendous success he has made since then has been achieved by sheer merit. Dr. Blake was considered one of the greatest surgeons in the United States at the time this terrible thing happened."

Friends of the Blake family are now trying to induce Dr. Blake to return to his family, and if this is accomplished Mrs. Blake will drop her suit against Mrs. Mackay. This statement was made by a personal friend of Mrs. Blake to whom the latter had referred in her interview.

From the same authority it was learned that Arthur C. Train, counsel for Mrs. Mackay, left Bar Harbor for Portland, Me., to urge his client to use what influence she may have with Dr. Blake to induce him to return to his family.

Mrs. Blake has refused to make any comment upon a possible reconciliation between herself and her husband.

Blames Gossips.
The gossip of New York's society leaders was the direct cause which led Mrs. Blake to file her suit against Mrs. Mackay. The first intimation that Mrs. Blake had concerning the affair was when she received a telephone message from a woman who refused to reveal her identity, but who informed Mrs. Blake of the gossip which was being carried on in the boudoirs of New York society women.

As the gossip spread, the telephone messages became more numerous, but it was not until after friends of Mrs. Blake had called upon her and told her of the gossip that she took notice of it.

Mrs. Blake then told her husband of the gossip and Dr. Blake, it is said, replied by defending Mrs. Mackay. Numerous friends of Mrs. Mackay took the same defensive stand and held that the two were drawn together by a common interest in the work which Dr. Blake was carrying on in connection with the Presbyterian hospital.

But the defenders of Mrs. Mackay could not stem the tide of gossip and the result was that about a year ago Dr. Blake separated from his wife and they have lived apart ever since.

KING'S WIFE IN HOSPITAL.
Munich, Sept. 25.—Princess Augustine Victoria, wife of former King Manuel of Portugal, was expected by her physicians today to return to the hospital and remain there for some time, as she needs a complete rest. SOCIALISTS NAME CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE

At an enthusiastic Socialist meeting, held in the City hall last night, the members of the Ogden local decided upon a list of candidates to be supported in the coming municipal election. The proposed ticket for each of the city offices is as follows:

For mayor-commissioner, J. W. Wagner.
For four-year commissioner, A. H. Martin.
For auditor, Joseph J. Hill.
For municipal judge, Gustave Holgreen.

By a unanimous vote, the foregoing were requested to accept the nomination and prepare petitions for their candidacy.

October 21 is the date of the primary election at which the two highest candidates for the offices will be selected and thus far the only desires expressed for the commissioners' offices have been made by the Socialists. It is expected, however, that a number of petitions will be presented within a short time to be filed.

She had been in the academy about four years coming here from Baltimore, where she had been for several years. She is survived by Sister Luigi, music instructor in the Sacred Heart academy, in Ogden, and several brothers who live in the east. Sister Luigi is now in Salt Lake.

UTAH BAPTISTS END CONVENTION

Salt Lake, Sept. 26.—The thirtieth annual session of the Utah Baptists convention wound up its three days' session last night at the Rio Grande Baptist church, after one of the most successful meetings ever held. The convention has been well attended and the officials of the church expressed themselves last night as well pleased with the work accomplished. The reports from the various departments were especially encouraging and letters from the churches over the state showed that Baptist membership has increased rapidly during the past year.

That the advance in Christian conversions is decreasing rather than increasing was the opinion expressed last night by Dr. C. A. Cook, secretary of the Baptist Home and Foreign Missionary society, with headquarters in Spokane. He stated that during the nineteenth century there was an advance of 20 per cent in America, while in the first ten years of the twentieth century Christianity only kept even with the growth of population in America. He asked his hearers whether China would be sending missionaries to this country within the next fifty years and urged that more conversion work be done among the foreigners who are drawn to our shores.

Miss Isabel Crawford made two addresses yesterday, one to the women's meeting in the afternoon.

PEACH HARVEST OVER.
Brigham City, Sept. 26.—Peach harvesting is practically over, and carload shipments ceased some days ago. During the peach rush prices dropped considerably, but gradually rose toward the close of the season. The year for peach growers has been fairly good, considering the prospects at the beginning, when the fungus first made its appearance. A great deal of fruit was unfit for marketing on this account.

BLACKHAND TO DYNAMITE HOME

Federal officers, members of the sheriff's force and the city police are co-operating in an effort to run to earth the daring blackhand criminals, whose expected attack on the mansion of the late David Eccles Wednesday night was guarded against by several sons of the late millionaire, armed with shotguns and automatic pistols.

Important in the developments of yesterday was the declaration of Mr. Eccles that the brigands who were attempting to extort money from Mrs. Eccles were the same ones who were successful in securing $1000 from Mrs. Thomas D. Dee and Mrs. R. E. Bristol several months ago, after writing blackhand letters to these women.

Every element in the latest outrage of the banditti appears to be identical with that of the Dee-Bristol black hand cases. In all three cases threatening letters were received. The letter to Mrs. Eccles is said to have threatened the dynamiting of the Eccles residence unless $1200 was given the blackmailers.

In each of the three cases the money was to have been delivered, according to the instructions, by a person driving a white horse hitched to an open buggy. Acceptance of the terms of the blackmailers in each case was to be signified by the insertion of a code advertisement in the classified columns of a local paper. In the note to Mrs. Eccles the authors declared they were the same persons who had figured in the sensational Dee-Bristol black hand episode.

Mr. Eccles declares the note to his mother did not specify the date on which the attack was to be made but that the Eccles brothers surmised that it might be made last night, which accounted for their securing a white horse and buggy—the same white horse and the same bullet-scarred buggy used in the encounter with the bandits in the Dee-Bristol case—and for their unusual preparations for guarding the house.

Another report has it that the letter to Mrs. Eccles fixed last night as the expiration of the bandits' ultimatum and indicated that the house would be dynamited before midnight should the Eccles family fail to produce the money.
